Livingston County Encourages At-Home Community Cleanup to Celebrate 50th Anniversary of Earth Day

Geneseo, NY, April 20, 2020 — April 22, 2020 is the 50th anniversary of Earth Day. In recognition of Earth Day 2020, Livingston County would like to encourage an at-home Community Cleanup for 2020. While practicing social distancing during COVID-19, County residents can still work together to advance the environmental health of Livingston County at home.

County residents are encouraged to recognize Earth Day from April 22 – 26 by conducting earth friendly activities at home. Some activities can include:

- Clean up leaves, sticks, brush, etc.
- Plant trees, bushes and grass
- Prepare gardens for Spring planting
- Spring clean your home with Earth-friendly cleaning products
- Recycle cardboard, plastics, glass and aluminum
- With proper distancing, safely include kids, teens and others in Earth Day related activities; Click here for ideas the whole family will enjoy
- Educate family members on the importance of recycling and keeping a healthy environment

We encourage you to participate and submit your at-home activities by posting them to Facebook and tagging @LivingstonCoNY on Twitter using #cleanuplivco.
