“We are thrilled to be able to offer this unique, outdoor experience to the residents of Livingston County. As many of our employers emerge from the NYS PAUSE, they are eager to recover and rebuild their workforces. This event will enable them to connect with the historically high number of unemployed workers in the region. While the job fair will be an in-person event, it will be necessary for both employers and job seekers to keep a safe distance and wear masks at all times,” stated Ryan Snyder, Director of Workforce Development.

“The outdoor venue puts a fun twist on the traditional job fair while adhering to CDC guidelines amid the COVID-19 crisis. We encourage job seekers to come with resumes in hand and dressed to impress.” continued Snyder.

To learn more about the outdoor job fair or to register your business, please contact the Livingston County Office of Workforce Development at 585-243-7047.
