Livingston County Celebrates National County Government Month

Geneseo, NY, April 8, 2021 — Livingston County is celebrating National County Government Month (NCGM) during the month of April to showcase how the county serves residents and achieves healthy, safe and vibrant communities.

The theme for this year's celebration of NCGM is "Counties Matter," demonstrating how counties help to improve people's lives every day, especially for local government workers on the frontlines of the coronavirus pandemic.

"Livingston County is proud of the programs and services we provide to our residents," said County Administrator Ian M. Coyle. "In a year full of unimaginable challenges, Livingston County stepped up and faced this pandemic head on, providing the emergency response and other essential services that our residents rely on. I salute all our county employees and encourage residents to participate in National County Government Month."

As part of this year's celebration, the New York State Association of Counties (NYSAC) is holding a county photo contest to celebrate the unique beauty and diversity of New York's counties. To enter, simply share a photo of a New York county on Instagram, Facebook or Twitter and tag @nyscounties and use the hashtag #countiesmatter. Five winning photographs will be chosen for publication in the summer edition of the NYSAC News magazine and included in the NYSAC 2022 Calendar. See complete guidelines here.

"National County Government Month is an opportunity for counties to highlight the many ways they serve their residents," said Stephen Acquario, Executive Director of the NYS Association of Counties. "Local government is vital to our communities across the state, and this is the perfect time to showcase counties across New York State."

Since 1991, the National Association of Counties (NACo) has encouraged counties across the country to raise public awareness and understanding about the roles and responsibilities of counties.
