Livingston County Celebrates National Nurses Week

Geneseo, NY, May 7, 2019— Livingston County is honoring the work of County staff nurses during the week of May 6-12 as National Nurses Week is celebrated across the country. The Department of Health is honoring the work of nurses this week with a Nurses Breakfast on Wednesday May 8 at 8 a.m. in the Department of Health Offices.

“Livingston County’s nurses work hard every day to meet the complex and emerging health care needs of our diverse population,” said Public Health Director Jennifer Rodriguez. “A nurse’s number one focus is to provide the best quality care to all of their patients. With the aging of the population in our County and across the country, the demand for nurses is only expected to grow. I am proud of the hard work all of our nurses do every day and I look forward to honoring them this National Nurses Week and every week to come.”

Livingston County currently employs nurses in many of its departments to operate dozens of programs, including WIC, Early Intervention and resident care at the Center for Nursing and Rehabilitation.
